Light Bulb Magnets

written by designy things

A new line of magnets featuring different light bulb styles by New York-based Tillett Lighting.

based Tillett Lighting. Linnaea, who once served as a juror in a product design competition I run for my day job, has a doctorate in environmental psychology, and is celebrated for her firm's lighting of public and private interiors, including, most recently, the lighting for FDR Four Freedoms Park on New York City's Roosevelt Island.

Linnaea worked with Tillett in-house designer/illustrator Charlie Brokate, whose black and white drawings appear on the front of each magnet. LEDs, CFLs, and other sources of illumination are joined by the ever-present cell phone, which often doubles as a light in a dark theater.

The set of 18 magnets are available for $22 from the shop of the Museum of the City of New York, www.mcny.org
